Q: Changing table size within constraint in MySQL I have a constraint in my MySQL table which prevents too much data from being loaded into the table, however I want to remove some of the constraints once they are met. How can I change the constraint's size without changing the original size? A: No, you can't do it by hand. You'd have to write a stored procedure that goes through the table(s) and removes some or all of the constraints you want to keep. If the data is really that bad, then create a new table that has the same structure, and copy all of the data to it. -0.03166 -0.01707 What is -2769 smaller than -1? 2768 What is the difference between 4539 and -5? 4544 What is the difference between -0.5 and -40439? 40438.5 Add -0.2 and -547. -547.2 Add together -3.18 and -0.6. -3.78 Work out 4.9 -1479. 1483.9 What is the difference between -0.5 and 6.5792? 7.0792 What is -0.9 take away -0.0248? -0.8752 What is 43.19 + -0.5? 42.69 What is -1.6 minus 2.4? -4 What is 3 plus -4682? -4679 Add together 28 and -244. -216 Total of -159 and -8.9. -167.9 Add 30 and -0.07. 29.93 What is -157 take away 3? -160 What is the difference between -1137 and 18? 1155 f678ea9f9e
